

THE WORLD OF SOCIETY.

ITEMS OF INTEREST GATHERED FROM SOCIAL CIRCLES.

Mrs. D. P. Slattery Entertains Her Friends at an Afternoon Reception—Mrs. Eva Linley and Her Guests—A Wedding Anniversary—Society Gossip and Chat.

A handsome reception was given by Mrs. D. P. Slattery yesterday afternoon at her residence, No. 3123 Pine street, from 3 to 6 o'clock, during which time her home was thronged with ladies in handsome reception toilets. The halls and parlors were profusely decorated with plants and flowers. The mantel-piece in the first parlor had a very unique and beautiful lambrequin formed of ferns and studded with flowers, at one end was a large bunch of lilies, at the other was grouped camellias, the intervening space besprinkled with the scarlet poinsettia and roses of different hues. The mantel-piece of the second parlor was banked for two feet with ferns and roses, while the fireplace was filled with palms, and a group of plants beneath the stairway screened Schoen's orchestra from view. In the dining-room, which formed the third room of the suite, was set a table elaborately decorated with flowers, roses and hyacinths predominating, from which freshman served refreshments during the appointed hours.

Mrs. Slattery was assisted in the reception of her guests by her daughter, Miss Lizzie Slattery, and Miss Elsie W. Wynn, and Mrs. Frank Wynn and Mrs. Freeborn assisted generally.

Mrs. Slattery wore a very elegant tailored robe of dark wine-colored velvet with flounces of duchesse lace caught at the throat by a diamond brooch; the demi sleeves were finished by a fall of lace and were met by long gloves in her hand she carried a beautiful bunch of Mornet roses.

Miss Lizzie Slattery wore a pretty toilette of pure white flannel made dancing length, with bouffant draperies of polka-dotted silk tulle. The corsage was made with long points, open at the throat and filled with the tulle, which also formed the puffed-sleeve sleeves. The skirt was made of a large bunch of sweet-scented violets.

Miss Elsie Wynn wore a pale-rose pink flannel, made dancing length, and draped with Valenciennes lace; the corsage decollete and sleeves, with long points, open at the throat, long kid gloves and in her hand she carried a large bunch of American beauties.

Miss Elsie Wynn wore a combination of old blue flannel and velvet, the bodice of the velvet, laced down the front with a clasp of Brussels net, with blue cords; demi-sleeves.

Mrs. Frank Wynn wore a black velvet, with panels and revers of gold and brown iridescent passementerie.

Mrs. Freeborn wore black velvet in train, with surplus corsage filled with the lace.

Mrs. E. O. Starnard wore black Lyons velvet with long princess train, and high cut corsage with vest of the duchesse lace and long tulle-colored gloves, and bonnet of golden brown with gold effects.

Mrs. Edgar Tilton wore a rich ruby-tinted velvet reception dress, full draped, with panels and corsage richly trimmed with Valenciennes lace; the corsage decollete and sleeves, with long points, open at the throat, long kid gloves and in her hand she carried a large bunch of American beauties.

Miss Elsie Wynn wore a combination of old blue flannel and velvet, the bodice of the velvet, laced down the front with a clasp of Brussels net, with blue cords; demi-sleeves.

Mrs. Frank Wynn wore a black velvet, with panels and revers of gold and brown iridescent passementerie.

Mrs. Freeborn wore black velvet in train, with surplus corsage filled with the lace.

Mrs. E. O. Starnard wore black Lyons velvet with long princess train, and high cut corsage with vest of the duchesse lace and long tulle-colored gloves, and bonnet of golden brown with gold effects.

Mrs. Edgar Tilton wore a rich ruby-tinted velvet reception dress, full draped, with panels and corsage richly trimmed with Valenciennes lace; the corsage decollete and sleeves, with long points, open at the throat, long kid gloves and in her hand she carried a large bunch of American beauties.

Miss Elsie Wynn wore a combination of old blue flannel and velvet, the bodice of the velvet, laced down the front with a clasp of Brussels net, with blue cords; demi-sleeves.

Mrs. Frank Wynn wore a black velvet, with panels and revers of gold and brown iridescent passementerie.

Mrs. Freeborn wore black velvet in train, with surplus corsage filled with the lace.

Mrs. E. O. Starnard wore black Lyons velvet with long princess train, and high cut corsage with vest of the duchesse lace and long tulle-colored gloves, and bonnet of golden brown with gold effects.

Mrs. Edgar Tilton wore a rich ruby-tinted velvet reception dress, full draped, with panels and corsage richly trimmed with Valenciennes lace; the corsage decollete and sleeves, with long points, open at the throat, long kid gloves and in her hand she carried a large bunch of American beauties.

Miss Elsie Wynn wore a combination of old blue flannel and velvet, the bodice of the velvet, laced down the front with a clasp of Brussels net, with blue cords; demi-sleeves.

Mrs. Frank Wynn wore a black velvet, with panels and revers of gold and brown iridescent passementerie.

Mrs. Freeborn wore black velvet in train, with surplus corsage filled with the lace.

Mrs. E. O. Starnard wore black Lyons velvet with long princess train, and high cut corsage with vest of the duchesse lace and long tulle-colored gloves, and bonnet of golden brown with gold effects.

Mrs. Edgar Tilton wore a rich ruby-tinted velvet reception dress, full draped, with panels and corsage richly trimmed with Valenciennes lace; the corsage decollete and sleeves, with long points, open at the throat, long kid gloves and in her hand she carried a large bunch of American beauties.

Miss Elsie Wynn wore a combination of old blue flannel and velvet, the bodice of the velvet, laced down the front with a clasp of Brussels net, with blue cords; demi-sleeves.

Mrs. Frank Wynn wore a black velvet, with panels and revers of gold and brown iridescent passementerie.

Mrs. Freeborn wore black velvet in train, with surplus corsage filled with the lace.

Mrs. E. O. Starnard wore black Lyons velvet with long princess train, and high cut corsage with vest of the duchesse lace and long tulle-colored gloves, and bonnet of golden brown with gold effects.

Mrs. Edgar Tilton wore a rich ruby-tinted velvet reception dress, full draped, with panels and corsage richly trimmed with Valenciennes lace; the corsage decollete and sleeves, with long points, open at the throat, long kid gloves and in her hand she carried a large bunch of American beauties.

Miss Elsie Wynn wore a combination of old blue flannel and velvet, the bodice of the velvet, laced down the front with a clasp of Brussels net, with blue cords; demi-sleeves.

Mrs. Frank Wynn wore a black velvet, with panels and revers of gold and brown iridescent passementerie.

Mrs. Freeborn wore black velvet in train, with surplus corsage filled with the lace.

Mrs. E. O. Starnard wore black Lyons velvet with long princess train, and high cut corsage with vest of the duchesse lace and long tulle-colored gloves, and bonnet of golden brown with gold effects.

Mrs. Edgar Tilton wore a rich ruby-tinted velvet reception dress, full draped, with panels and corsage richly trimmed with Valenciennes lace; the corsage decollete and sleeves, with long points, open at the throat, long kid gloves and in her hand she carried a large bunch of American beauties.

Miss Elsie Wynn wore a combination of old blue flannel and velvet, the bodice of the velvet, laced down the front with a clasp of Brussels net, with blue cords; demi-sleeves.

TWO OLD CASES

WHICH HAVE JUST BEEN REDOCKETED IN THE CRIMINAL COURT.

The Prosecution of Dan Moriarty, the Man Who Enabled the Pinkertons to Trap Jim Witrock, and His Partners—The Wire-Tapping Case of the Great Strike Revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

Two cases have been set for trial on February 20 which for a long time have been off the docket of the Criminal Court altogether, and which it has been the general opinion would never be prosecuted. They are the case of Dan Moriarty, indicted for receiving stolen property, and Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlin and George M. Jackson, indicted for destroying telegraph wires. The former is the only criminal charge growing out of the celebrated Jim Witrock case, the latter a wire-tapping case of the great strike revived—Why the Papers Have Been Taken Out of Their Dusty Covers.

MODEL CHARGES.

A Limerick Notary's Bill of Costs Filed in Court—Legal News and Notes.

Depositions from Limerick in the suit of Halpin vs. McNamara were opened to-day in Judge Lubke's court. The notary, John Dugan, enclosed a bill of costs, which he took to the court. A model of foreign charges. The notary enclosed a note to the clerk directing him to see that the costs were paid before the depositions were used. He charged one guinea for simply pursuing the commission at the court, half a guinea for drawing up the bill of costs, and five shillings for writing the letter of caution to the clerk.

The following judgments were rendered to-day in the Circuit Court: Gabriel Schwab, et al. vs. H. F. Harrington et al.; judgment for defendants for possession and damages; John M. Glover, trustee under the will of Harriet Pratt Chappin vs. Harriet Murray et al.; judgment for plaintiff for possession and damages; Fred Karz vs. the estate of Fred Karz.

The law docket will be called to-morrow morning in Judge Harboley's court, No. 3; likewise in Judge Lubke's court, No. 1. The petition for discharge in the matter of the assignment of Charles F. Bierman was referred to-day to T. J. McManister.

The Grand Jury met this afternoon to take charge of the estate of Fred Karz.

What the Different Local Posts Will Do With Their Share.

The residue of the Grand Army entertainment fund has for the most part been distributed, and the Finance Committee will shortly present a full report. Nearly all the beneficiaries have received the greater part of their quota, and the entire fund will soon be distributed, and the accounts closed. Blair Post, the largest in the State, received $44 as its percentage. Hassendubel Post received an almost equal amount, while the Rome Post was the next in order. This money will be exclusively devoted to the use of the relief funds of the several Posts, numbers of subscribers to the entertainment fund have asked that their proportion of the surplus be paid to the relief fund. By setting aside this money for this purpose, instead of returning it to the subscribers, a fund will be available for ongoing Post leaders and a fine band without necessitating an assessment.

A TEXAS DESPERADO LAID OUT.
Jim McKnight Kills Two Members of a Posse and is Himself Slain.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. GAINESVILLE, Tex., January 27.—At Porell, L. T., a town on the Santa Fe Railroad, north of this city, three men were killed last night. A desperado by the name of Dered, alias Jim McKnight, shot and mortally wounded Duke Cummings last Tuesday, since which time a posse has been searching for the murderer.

Coming upon him last night near Porell he made a terrible resistance, killing two of the posse before he was disabled. He was finally killed, thus making four killings within three days near no law in the county of which was on account of Duke Cummings, a ranchman, who had killed, beat and robbed some of the posse of McKnight. The latter, fearing Cummings would expose him, went to the place where he killed Cummings and shot the two men of the posse who were killed have not been learned at this writing.

THE DERMOTON TRAGEDY.
Finding of the Victim's Body in the Tennessee River.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., January 27.—Last Monday night Frank Dermot was brutally murdered at Hunter's Bluff, on the Tennessee River, three miles above this city and his body was found floating in the river. This morning the searching party found the body in the middle of the river about a mile and a half below where the murder was committed. The body was loaded down with weights. A young man named Hunter is charged with the crime. Great excitement prevails.

An Enormous Fish.
J. W. Peters & Co., at French Market, received a curiosity this morning in the shape of a fish from the Gulf of Mexico. It is of the kind known as grouper, which generally run in weight from two to twenty-five pounds. The one received this morning weighs something over three hundred pounds, and is the largest fish of the kind ever brought to St. Louis. Measurements of its carcass after being dressed were as follows: Length, 7 feet 8 inches; girth at widest part, 3 feet 6 inches; diameter of mouth (open), 12 inches; length of dorsal fin, 12 inches.

Will Last Two Days.
By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. SHELBYVILLE, Ill., January 27.—The Shelby County Teachers' Annual Institute is in session at the graded school building, under the direction of County-Superintendent Milton Harber. Hon. G. D. Chaffee offered an address of welcome. A large number of teachers are in attendance, and the programme commences to-morrow.

A Light Sentence.
By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. QUINCY, Ill., January 27.—Charles Ward, who pleaded guilty to the charge of murdering Wm. Berry, a carpenter and member of the G. A. R., was this morning sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of one year and a half. Ward came home from work one evening last fall and caught Berry in company with his wife in the act of committing adultery. He struck Berry over the head, crushing his skull.

Tailors to Meet.
A meeting of all custom foreman tailors is called for this evening at the Southern Hotel for the purpose of organizing a new Custom Foreman Tailors' Exchange. Geo. W. Fisher, President of the Custom Foreman Tailors' Association of America, will be present. Besides the foreman tailors, John J. Dostal, Nelson L. Bickup, James L. Brennan, Charles Nolan, Julian Laurent, John F. Buchhalter, Wm. R. Hughes, Joseph Kosk, and James Hartnett, G. M. Schneider.

Tough Base-Ball Players.
By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. QUINCY, Ill., January 27.—James Burns and George Harter, two professional ball players, who, together with two chums, assaulted barber Geo. Roth and James Kennedy, were tried before a jury in the Criminal Court this morning. Burns and the other two were found guilty of riot, and Harter was acquitted. Burns is signed with the Omaha Club for next season, and Harter will likely play with the Peoria Club.

In Session at Kinnmundy.
By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. CHATTANOOGA, Ill., January 27.—The Marion County Teachers' Association is in session at Kinnmundy, Ill., to-day. The attendance this morning was very large and the discussions very interesting. The public schools of this county are in the hands of the entire corps of teachers allowed to attend.

The Sioux Delegation.
By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., January 27.—A Pierre (S.D.) special to the Journal says the Sioux Indians have elected twelve delegates, one from each tribe, to represent the nation at Washington on the proposition to open the reservation.

Fixed 8000.
By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. CHICAGO, January 27.—Thomas B. Gardner, the proprietor of the Chicago Farm Journal, who was arrested last April by the United States postal authorities for a fraudulent use of the mails, in conducting a lottery and gift enterprise, was found guilty by a jury, and fined $8,000.

THE ARKANSAS IMMIGRATION BOARD.
Helena Appoints Delegates to the Convention at Little Rock.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. HELENA, Ark., January 27.—County Judge Nicholas yesterday appointed Judge R. W. Nichols, U. S. District Judge Jacob Triebel, R. W. Green and L. A. Fitzpatrick delegates to the Immigration convention to be held in Little Rock January 31, and Mayor Meyers from the convention, appointed five additional delegates. The full delegation will attend, and Philip County will be fully represented. The result of this convention is looked forward to with great interest, and this county

"DELICATESSEN!"
THE POPULAR LUNCH-ROOM, 118 N. Fourth Street, 712 Olive Street, 716 N. Broadway.

CITY NEWS.

4,000 Dozen Cuffs and Collars.
Men's best 4-ply all linen, prices cut just in half Saturday at Crawford's.

Dr. E. C. Chase,
Corner of 8th and Olive streets. Set of teeth, $6.
Private patients skillfully treated and medicines furnished. Dr. Disabear, 814 Pine st.

Dr. Whittier, 617 S. Charles, cures diseases of indigestion, indigestion, Colic or colic.

IN A STARVING CONDITION.
The Sisseton Indians at Brown's Valley Dependent on Charity.

BROWN'S VALLEY, Minn., January 27.—In regard to the statement made a few days ago that the Sisseton Indians were in a starving condition, it was found yesterday that quite a number are almost entirely dependent on the charity of several families of this place. The agent is doing what he can to help the needy ones, but for some reason, tries to cover up the fact that the Indians, if not actually starving, are greatly in need of assistance. Even by visiting their log cabins, where several families generally house together during the winter months, the agent has been unable to ascertain whether they have plenty or are next door to starvation. You can only surmise by either the beautiful and well-fed or the emaciated and hungry looks of the faces. The Indian will not complain, but he will eat and he will more and with a stolidity that is beyond comprehension sit down in a corner, pull his blanket over his head and grin and be even to his death. The present destitution is attributable to a part failure of the crops last season. They receive no more cash annuities from the Government. The Sissetons are rich in lands, but the greater share of these have most scanty provisions and little or no means of procuring enough to keep body and soul together.

VERY BOLD.

He Wants Money and Must Have It.—A Panic Luckily Evaded.

There was quite an excitement on Franklin avenue, between Seventh and Eighth streets, which is sure to be renewed to-morrow. Unless the hands of the law should interfere there will be another encounter.

TO-MORROW ONLY—READ CAREFULLY TO-MORROW.

One lot of men's 40 overcoats at $1.25.
One lot of men's $7.50 fur beaver overcoats at $3.50.

One lot of men's $10 all-wool cassimere suits at $5.50.

One lot of children's 30 overcoats and suits at 75 cents.

One lot of children's 35 suits at $5.
One lot of men's fine tailor-made 300 suits and overcoats at $10.

One lot of boys' 35 suits and overcoats at $2.45.

One lot of boys' 30 suits and overcoats at $5.
One lot of men's $2.50 to $3.50 suits at $1.25.

One lot of linen and percale shirts, reinforced, at 25 cents.

One lot of all-wool flannel underwear at 85 cents.

One lot of boys' polo caps at 9 cents.

One lot of men's fine 30 to 40 hats at $2.50.

One lot of ladies' fine kid button 25.00 suits at $1.50.

Odds and ends of fine clothing cut in half.

The above drives are for to-morrow only.
If you come too late it will be your own fault.

GLOVES, 70 to 715 Franklin avenue.

SWINNEY HELD.

Corra Lee's Defense—A Murderer's Confession—Missouri Matters.

MISSOURI CITY, January 27.—At the close of the preliminary examination of J. Barney Swinney for the attempt to rob the Washburn train the Justice decided to hold him in a bond of $4,000. He was taken to jail at Liberty to await the February term of court.

SPRINGFIELD, January 27.—Corra Lee took the witness-stand in her own defense yesterday afternoon. She said that her marriage to Geo. Graham was justified by the production of a copy of a deed of divorce obtained from Sarah Graham. She had no knowledge of the fact that they had been divorced.

CARLEIGH, January 27.—The selection of a jury for the Little murder case has at length been made and the trial of Bell and his co-defendant will begin to-morrow.

ROCKPORT, January 27.—Judge Anthony yesterday overruled the motion for a change of venue in the case of Arthur Blake, who was indicted with the late Harry Lee for the murder of John McDowell last July. Harris made a confession implicating Blake. The motion for a continuance was overruled. The bond of A.
Argo, a well-known farmer, was forfeited for forgery and he was committed to jail.

NEVADA, January 27.—John King was arrested last night for whipping his little girl to death with a strap. Great indignation is manifested throughout the neighborhood.

DE SOTO, January 27.—The hall given by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers last night was attended by 800 persons and it was a pronounced success.

TEX FLAP JACK buckwheat cakes for breakfast. They are so nice.

COULDN'T GET AWAY.

Train Robber Captured—How at a Church—A Big Building—Texas Topics.

WACO, January 27.—Frankie Brown, who was sent out to the county convict farm to work out a fine for assault, made an attempt to escape yesterday, aided by his lover, who had a buggy at hand. The guards were alerted, however, and the prisoner was brought back.

EL PASO, January 27.—It is reported here that another arrest has been made in connection with the Memphis train robbery in the district southwest of Chihuahua. A considerable portion of the stolen money was recovered.

FAIRBANKS, January 27.—John Brown, a farmer, had a quarrel last night at the Rock Church with Houston Smith, a tenant, concerning some rent. Both men used revolvers, but no mortal wounds were inflicted. They were arrested.

ROSEMONT, January 27.—There are thirty-three prisoners at present in the Fannin County jail awaiting trial. Three prisoners are indicted for murder.

ST. LOUIS, January 27.—The stockholders of the Board of Trade met last night and decided to erect a six-story building at a cost of $100,000.

MRS. RAWSON INDICTED.

On Trial for Fraud—The Westbrook Murder Trial—Illinois Items.

CHICAGO, January 27.—Mrs. Rawson, wife of the banker who was shot by his stepson as he came out of church one Sunday morning, has been indicted by the Grand Jury as an accessory. James W. Rykes, a seed merchant, is on trial here for leasing fraudulent receipts to the extent of $10,000. He has employed disreputable counsel to defend him.

DECATUR, January 27.—The testimony for the defense in the case of William Westbrook, on trial for the murder of William Gross, the saloon-keeper, at Blue Mound, commenced to-day. Great interest is manifested in the proceedings.

QUINCY, January 27.—Arthur Remis was killed last evening by a slip from a horse while coasting.

Verdict of the Judge. of the American exhibition—Farmers' Boogies solid as cannonballs in quality and durability.

THEIR OWN WAY.

WHAT THE "BOOKIES" WANT AND THE CLUB MEN DESIRE TO GIVE THEM.

Opinions of Prominent Racing Men on the "Turf Alliance"—The Betting Question
"A Remarkable Dog Fight"—English Turf Statistics—Charley Daily Will Fight Meyers—Diamond Clips—Sporting News and Notes.

The new bookmakers' association, known as the Turf Alliance, is creating an amount of discord among bookmakers and horsemen, says Wednesday's WORLD. Wherever these men were gathered together yesterday little else was discussed. The Alliance has developed a pretty little scheme by which the members hope next season to control the betting on all the big race-tracks of the country.
Only members of the Alliance were to be permitted to have betting stands on the tracks, and the Executive Committee was to determine the odds to be offered on every race, and no member was to be permitted to go above the limit fixed.

D. D. Withers and James Galway, of the Monmouth Park Association, and President Phil Dwyer of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, were sounded by representatives of the Alliance to see how the scheme would work, but when the latter suggested that the Alliance would be pleased to obtain control of the tracks they were informed that no association of bookmakers could control the tracks in question.
Now the Alliance is going to fight the uncompromising horsemen.

Several of the well-known bookmakers are said to have declined to enter the Alliance among them being McCarthy, O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city, has been invited to join the Alliance. The reputation of several members of the Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing associations to suppress them. The financial backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,
O'Rourke, Quinn, Rodman and Kelly &
Rilla. It is also stated on good authority that
Peter DeLacy, who was ruled off the tracks
because he unlawfully sold pools in this city,
has been invited to join the Alliance. The
reputation of several members of the
Alliance has had a good deal to do with its
cool reception at the hands of the racing associations. It includes several men who have
been running city pool-races in violation
of the law and in spite of the efforts of the racing
associations to suppress them. The financial
backers of the Alliance are said to be the
clubs, among them the Brooklyn Jockey Club,